This is a prequel to the 2007 hit Shootout at Lokhandwala, and it's the second part of the Shootout movie series. He's free. on dongree's book in Dubai: Six Six Mumbai mafia Hussain zaidi. The film stars John Abraham, Anil Kapoor, Kanganana Ranaut, Tushar Kapoor, Manoj Bajpayee and Sonu Sud. The film dramatises the meeting of the Mumbai police, in which the gangster Mia Surve was shot. It happened at an intersection adjacent to Dr. Ambedkar College, Wadala, Mumbai, on 11 January 1982. The film was due to be released on May 1, 2013. The film was released to mixed reviews by critics, and according to Box Office India, was announced by Medium. The film is remembered for one of John Abraham's outstanding performance and his daring love-making scenes between John Abraham and Kangan Ranaut. Plot In a police van, Afaaque Baagwan (Anil Kapoor) listens to a story told by a gangster, Maya Surve (John Abraham), who is seriously injured with a bullet-ridden body. Meja Surve is a worthy student at Kirti College, Dadar. He is in love with Vidya Joshi (Kanganana Ranaut) and takes her to his mother to discuss their marriage. Meaghi has an older brother named Bhargaav Surve, who is a mawali. Bhargav is in conflict with the underworld of Don named Bhatkar (Ranjeet) and is currently on the run. Soon enough, Bhargava is attacked and beaten by Bhatkar's thugs. May steps to save him. While Maya Surve squeezes one of the thugs, Bhargav stabs the goon and he dies on the spot. On the day of the Miaki exam, before he can discover his grades, Maya and his brother are arrested and publicly humiliated at the college by Inspector Ammolkar (Raju Scher) and end up in the central prison of Yerwada. In prison, another convict named Munir (Tushar Kapoor) saves Manu from an attack by a gong named Potya (Chetan Hansraj) during lunch. Bhargav was killed in the attack. Munir befriended Manyya and another convict named Vira. Veera trains Manu to become stronger. The pulp is trained and then eventually challenged by Potya. Sweat attacks him from behind and beats Mea, to which Mia responds, stabbing Sweat to death. Later, both Maya and Munir escape from prison while they work on the railway track and try to team up with the two brothers who rule the Mumbai deal. The first brother, zubair Imtiaz Haqsar (Manoj Bajpay), is cool and impressed with Manyya. However, the second brother, Dilavar (Sonu Sud), does not approve of Meha and does not like him. After that, Mania forms his own gang, which consists of him, Muniira, Vira, and Gyancho, a sniper brought by Munir. Soon enough, Mia jokes to Bhatkar (the gangster who arrested him and his brother), Jamal, Bhatkar's bodyguard, also joins them. Mega then kneels Amolkar, severely beating him in public. The story goes on to show the death of Sadiq, (Arif Sakaria) an unscrupulous news reporter, Mastan. This interrupts the fight between the Haskar brothers and Mastan. Because of this, the truce is called Haji Maksud (Akbar Khan). The truce is short-lived, as Maqsood asks Meow Surve to finish the zubair. After the murder of zubair, Dilavar kills with the help of Jamal. He's about to kill Munir when Manja saves him. Later, Afaaque is asked to kill May by Dilawar. Even after his refusal, he first agrees when the police commissioner (Jackie Shroff) orders him. The story comes to an end after the shooting and murder of Miaki by the police.
